Conditions of SMS authentication in the course of utilising PCBankár or NetBANKár Business service

1. SMS authentication is a service extended by the Bank for the utilisation of the PCBankár or NetBANKár Business service, with which the Bank ensures the signing of payment and other orders given to the Bank by the use of PCBankár or NetBANKár Business service to the User (hereinafter referred to as: SMS authentication).
2. SMS authentication is performed by the Bank sending a single-use password, valid for a specific period, to the mobile telephone number specified in the User's Declaration in SMS message
3. The mobile telephone number of the User may only be amended by the User in an written announcement to the Bank.
4. The SMS authentication shall be utilised only by the User and only with the mobile telephone number, for whom and for which number the utilisation of the SMS authentication was requested in writing.
5. Parallel with the utilisation of SMS authentication the User cannot utilise other method of authentication in the course of using the PCBankár service.
6. The signing password necessary for the utilisation of SMS authentication is deemed an identification tool, the contractual utilisation of which is the responsibility and risk of the Account Holder. The rules of utilising the identification tool are incorporated in the Business Rules of the Bank on Bank Account Keeping, Deposit Collection and Related Services.
7. The SMS authentication service shall be provided by the Bank from the third business day after receiving the application.
8. The User shall utilise SMS authentication at the risk and liability of the Account Holder, on the condition that he/she shall fully comply with the utilisation and security rules concerning SMS authentication. The User shall take note that - at the request of the Account Holder - the Bank shall provide information to the Account Holder on the method of authentication utilised by the User and the potential utilisation related errors, failures.
